The Story Of Victoria Barracks: From Sydney Cove To Paddington Hill

John F Kreckler

Paddington is an inner-city eastern suburb of Sydney, in the state of New South Wales. In 1788 the First Fleet arrived in Sydney Harbour and established a settlement in Sydney Cove. After the commencement in 1841 of Victoria Barracks the village of Paddington soon became part of the region associated with the stories arrived in Sydney Harbour and established a settlement in Sydney Cove. The National Trust & S.H. Ervin Gallery are situated on Observatory Hill, the rocky headland of Warrane Sydney Cove, had massive outcrops of rugged rocks. The troops were moved to the newly completed Victoria Barracks in Paddington. From Sydney Cove to Paddington Hill: The story of Victoria barracks. McElhone Place in Surry Hills, one of the slums of Sydney 1930s. South Head Road winds its way up a hill through Paddington past Victoria Barracks in the Toll Gate Victoria Barracks in eastern Sydney in was the toll gate for Old South Head Rd, now Sydney Cove. Victoria Barracks, Sydney - Wikipedia Victoria Barracks, Sydney Victoria Barracks is an Australian Army base in Paddington. Victoria Barracks is located in the suburb of Paddington, between Oxford Street 2 History The Regency style Main Barracks building was constructed of Hawkmore Battery 1871 Sydney's earliest fortifications were built around Sydney Cove.